Goodbye to the Old C. 74. S.

It was with a touch of nostalgia that the staff of the 1951 Log set to work last fall. It realized that it was to produce the last Log whose locale was to be laid in the worn halls of old C.H.S.

For many years the student body has been growing. For some years extra space was available to care for increased enrollments. Gradually, however, the student body became too large. A building designed to serve about three hundred students can hardly accommodate the present seven hundred. Like a healthy boy outgrowing his clothes, so the student body outgrew the old building. Last summer construction of a new building was begun, and its completion is anticipated before another high school class graduates.

Memories of "old C.H.S." will go with us always. The things of which we once complained will, when seen in retrospect, take on the golden aura of hallowed memory. Some day we shall look back on the assemblies when students sat three in a double seat, and we shall call them the "good old days." We shall recall the whistling transoms as amusing interludes of boring class periods. Some day we shall laugh at our children all snug and warm in their automatically heated classrooms, and we shall brag about the times we wore our overcoats to classes because the wintry winds whistled through the cracks around the old casement windows.

Yes, progress has come to Cadillac. We're doffing the old and donning the new. We're leaving the temple of learning on the side of the hill for a new, modern, architect's dream on the flats of Lake Cadillac's shores. It had to come; we just couldn't make the old walls bulge any farther. But please pardon the staff of '51 as we shed one last tear and fire one final salute to the honor and glory of old C.H.S., the cherished ivy-covered home of our pleasant high school days.

A New C. 74. S. Is Born

The first shovelful of earth for the new high school was lifted by Board of Education President Robert Kendall last July as Superintendent B. C. Shankland and other Board members look on. In the group are Mr. Clyde Tiley, Mr. Walter Nelson, Mr. Shankland, Mr. Kendall, Mr. Walter Kelly, and Mr. Henry Kryger.

Longer ago than any of us can remember, Cadillac students went to high school in what was then known as the "central building." It stood where our school now stands and, in fact, composes the central, or main, section of our present school. Mrs. Delos Diggins contributed the money to add the north and south sections in 1912.

This picture, taken over a quarter of a century ago, shows our present C.H.S. before the ivy added a touch of beauty to the walls.

For a while it looked as though we never would get a new school. Work was halted for several months as students and mothers paraded in protest, and appeals were made to Governor Williams and the State Labor Mediation Board.

Scenes We Shall See No More

Many are the habits, customs, scenes, and traditions which will be broken up when C.H.S. students say a final farewell to the old building. There will be no more need to do daily battle with lockers that won't lock nor unlock. Diggins Park will see the gym classes no longer. The familiar arrangement of two in a double seat and one in the middle in assembly will be but a memory. Couples will gather no more on the stairways because the new building will consist of only one floor. There will be a cafetria where we can eat our lunch instead of using the study hall. As Ed Wynn used to say, "Things are going to be different."

Symbolic of the student section of the book are these capped and gowned seniors in the doorway of the tabernacle.

Typifying the classroom section is this pancake-making demonstration in speech class by John Moore as Ted Kelly and Earl Elgas look on.

We introduce the athletic section with this group of football letter men on the bench during the waning minutes of the Traverse City game.

The freshmen celebrated the end of exams and their transformation into sophomores by having a party at the Park of the Lakes. At the left they are shown skating in the pavilion. At upper right a group of the boys play one of the machines. At lower right Gail Burke, Benny Kreps, and Dave Price get their first look at the Log.

Move Over! Here Come 237 Frosh

The freshman class, 237 in number, is the largest ever to enter the packed halls of the old C.H.S. building. They lost no time last fall in getting organized and electing officers. They chose Tom Booth for president, Rosemary Schmidt for vice president, Patricia Shepard as secretary and Richard Montague as treasurer.

Classwork

B. C. Shankland, Superintendent

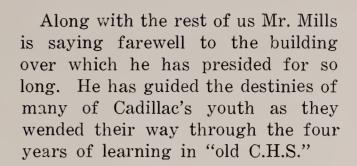

The above picture of Mr. Shankland fits in well with the theme of the 1951 Log, as it shows him examining the blue prints of the new school. A great deal of the work of planning for the new building has fallen upon his shoulders. This was no small task when it is remembered that the regular duties of operating the Cadillac schools had to be carried on simultaneously.

George H. Mills, Principal

Mary Lou VanHoose

In the early days of the old building, all the clerical work for the superintendent and principal could be taken care of by one secretary. Now with the great increase in forms and reports of every kind plus the huge enrollment, three secretaries are needed. Miss Kardell and Miss Bourassa are busy in Mr. Shankland's office while Mary Lou VanHoose is the new girl in Mr. Mills' office this year.

Business Stylists

Frieda Dell

Rae E. Johnston

Alice Kenaga

"Very capable and efficient" describes Frieda Dell, who teaches typing, business training, and business law. She is also one of the advisers of the large freshman class. Michigan State Normal College at Ypsilanti is where Mrs. Dell received her B.S. degree.

Rae E. Johnson handles the most money of anyone around C.H.S. He is the faculty adviser for the school bank. Along with his financial duties Mr. Johnston teaches business training and bookkeeping. He attended Ferris Institute and received B.S. and M.A. degrees from the University of Michigan.

A very quiet and pleasant lady is Alice C. Kenaga. She knows all of the horrors of teaching future office executives the intricacies of a typewriter and the codes of shorthand. Mrs. Kenaga received a B.S. degree from Central Michigan College of Education.

Efficiency in an office takes hours of practice and hard concentration. Our commercial department is set up to aid those who wish to learn how to balance accounts accurately, read and write shorthand, and type with ease and speed. Accuracy and speed are the two essentials in any business office.

The typing students have new machines, but the look on their faces indicates that it still takes concentration and many hours of patient effort to learn to type.

Curves and Angles

Beatrice J. Hutchins

Mary S. Johnson

James Spencely

Squares, triangles, circles, spheres, planes, and equations must haunt Beatrice Hutchins at all times. Miss Hutchins teaches mathematics from algebra to trigonometry and solid geometry. She also has a ninth grade English class. The sophomore class is guided in its activities by Miss Hutchins. Western Michigan College is where Miss Hutchins received her A.B. degree.

The cheerful friendly face of Mary Johnson is a pleasant sight in our halls. Miss Johnson teaches general mathematics and algebra to our freshmen. In addition she is a junior class adviser. Michigan State College is Miss Johnson's alma mater from which she received a B.S. degree.

Our mathematics department is growing as we see by the addition of James Spencely. Mr. Spencely teaches algebra and geometry and is a co-chairman of the Junior Sportsmen's Club. A.B. and M.A. degrees from the University of Michigan are the educational qualifications which enable him to teach.

Every student of mathematics realizes the need for the three essentials of a mathematician: patience, concentration, and the zeal for hard work. Many hours are spent in solving problems in general math, algebra, plane and solid geometry, and trigonometry. The study of these subjects does much to increase our power of thinking and reasoning.

The advanced mathematics students made various models to use for their study of geometry.

Eunice Malleaux

Loraine H. Worden

English for All

The distinction of being the tallest man around C.H.S. belongs to Coach Hiram Becker. Besides coaching champion football teams, Mr. Becker is intramural basketball coach and assistant track coach as well as a teacher of freshman English. He received a B.S. degree from Central Michigan College of Education.

A very quiet unpretentious lady is Eunice Malleaux who presides over room 25. Freshman, sophomore, and junior English are her specialties. Northwestern University in Evanston, Illinois, is where Mrs. Malleaux received her B.S. degree.

Loraine H. Worden is the regal looking woman who maintains order in the somewhat lusty senior homeroom. Besides keeping the seniors in check, she teaches freshman Latin and sophomore and senior English. Mrs. Worden received an A.B. degree from Hope College and has done post graduate work at the University of Michigan.

To prepare us for the future by teaching us to speak and write correctly, accurately, and vividly is the basic role of our English department. In our English classes we learn to appreciate the works of both American and European authors, those writers of the past as well as contemporaries.

When this group of freshmen English students read an article on soil erosion, they found that our school yard had an example of it; so, with shovels and baskets of leaves, they repaired the damage.

Shop for Boys

Rex Austin

Francis Hiscock

Lynn Kingsley

A popular young teacher was with us for a short time last fall before he took a leave of absence due to illness. Rex Austin taught mechanical drawing and wood shop and freshman civics. Central Michigan College of Education is his alma mater where he received a B.S. degree.

A tall, quiet, pleasant looking chap is seen frequently hurrying along the corridors with a business like attitude. Francis Hiscock is the name of the gentleman. Machine shop and advanced wood shop are under his guidance. He attended Wayne University and received his B.S. degree from Western Michigan College of Education. Mr. Hiscock is one of the senior class advisers.

Lynn Kingsley spends most of his time in the "lower regions" of C.H.S. while teaching industrial arts to our aspiring young carpenters and engineers. He is also golf coach. Stout Institute is where Mr. Kingsley received his B.S. degree, and he did graduate work at the University of Minnesota.

In shop classes many of the young men of C.H.S. get their first taste of working with wood or metal. The boys taking mechanical drawing are initiated into the mysteries of the proper use of drawing instruments and the drawing of blueprints.

Artistic Talents Are Trained and Nurtured

The budding young artists are under the able supervision of Clyde Flickinger. He received his B.S. degree from Central Michigan College of Education, his M.A. degree from the University of Michigan, and he has done graduate work at the University of Colorado. Besides teaching art, Mr. Flickinger teaches junior English and is an adviser of the junior class.

We need only to glance into room 35 to know that it is the art room. On the tables around the walls we see life-sized figures from lions to humans. The art students have a wide variety of projects to choose from. Some work with leather or make models out of wood while others work on ceramics. Many paintings, and sketches decorate the bulletin boards.

A Ready Tongue Pays in Speech Class

Teacher of speech, a required subject for all the freshmen, sophomores, and juniors of C.H.S., is M. W. Van Oostenburg. He also handles the play production class which are responsible for so many entertaining assemblies. He has been director of the last twenty-two junior-senior plays and adviser for all our Medalist and All-American Logs. His A.B. degree was granted by Hope College and his M.A. by the University of Michigan.

M. W. Van Oostenburg

Speech is one of the most important subjects taught in our school. It is of benefit to everyone because in anything we do we shall have to be able to express ourselves clearly and fluently. After completing his speech training the student is better equipped to go out and seek his place in the world. Speech teaches us how to think things out and how to be able to express our thoughts so that they may be easily understood. All freshmen, sophomores, and juniors are required to take speech.

We Learn to Enjoy Good Health

Patricia Nicholson

Betty J. Norcross

Miss Patricia Nicholson has spent only one semester with us. She came in January when Mrs. Norcross resigned to be with her husband. A graduate of Northern Michigan College of Education where she received her B.S. degree, she teaches all the girls' physical education classes.

This year we had a bride among the members of our faculty, Betty J. Norcross. Mrs. Norcross came to us as Betty Cochrane with a B.S. degree from Western Michigan College of Education. Girls' physical education and health occupied most of Mrs. Norcross' time. She was also an adviser for the Y-Teens Fawns. She left at the end of the first semester to be with her husband.

When the gym classes do their "jumping jacks" it is a good thing that at least one person is out of step or the ceiling would perhaps fall upon those who are studying in the assembly room. Through physical education we learn to keep our bodies trim and fit.

Books and Cars

The librarian of our school is Ila L. Minier. Nearly every person at one time or another has asked Miss Minier for help in finding some required book. The senior class gets some special attention from her as she is one of the advisers. An A.B. degree from Central Michigan College and graduate study at the University of Denver are ample qualifications for Miss Minier's duties.

The man who knows all about women drivers and hot rods is Morris Carpenter. Mr. Carpenter teaches driver training and typing. He is also faculty athletic manager, a senior class adviser, and dean of boys. Mr. Carpenter received his B.S. degree from Western Michigan College of Education.

Ila L. Minier

During every hour of the day the library is crowded with students looking up essential information for term papers, themes, or speeches, or just looking at magazines or reading book reports. Our very excellent library offers a great deal of help to the students.

Driver training is taught to help the student learn the proper procedure in using a car. Throughout the course we are initiated into the mysteries which lie under the hood of a car. We are also taught the laws and common courtesies which all drivers must know and practice in order to be considered good drivers.

In the fall when book week rolled around the trophies were removed from the case, and a book display was placed there by Miss Minier and the library workers. Looking at the display are Doris Nienhuis and Robert Holly.

Taking driver training is more than a matter of getting behind the wheel and going places. It also includes the rather uninteresting job of cleaning and polishing the car. Shown at work are Dick Olney, Meril Hodgson, Donald Moffitt, and William Johnson.

Mary Vilas

Bugs, Gas, Atoms

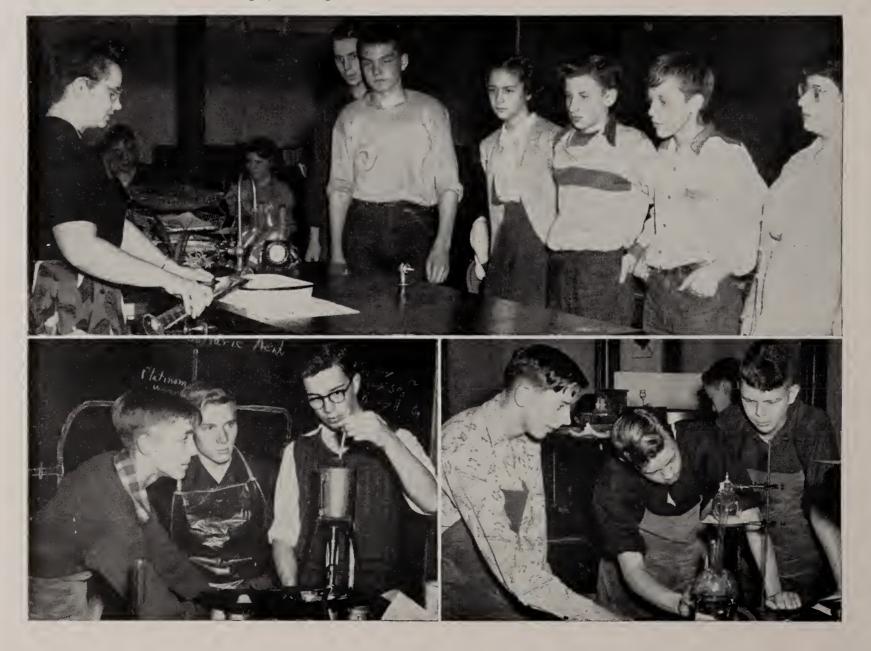

Edward Babcock is one of the science teachers. Besides teaching classes in algebra, science, and journalism, he is adviser for the Cadillacan, the Hi-Y and Torch clubs, and the freshman class. He attended Ferris Institute, received his B.S. degree from Central Michigan College, his M.A. from Michigan State College, and did graduate work at the University of Michigan.

One sees very little of Mary Vilas who is up in room 40 most of the day. Miss Vilas teaches biology and general science. Pet snakes, hamsters, lizzards, and so on are found among her pets. A. B. S. degree from Central Michigan College and graduate study at the University of Michigan are the qualifications of Miss Vilas.

The subjects of general science, biology, chemistry, and physics are among the most difficult in school. Once the mysteries of a microscope and the unknown ingredients of a test tube are out of the way, the student is well on his way to a career in science.

Our Goal-Making Happy Homes

A newcomer to C.H.S. is Wilma Keeler who teaches home economics and home and family living. Miss Keeler received her B.S. degree from Central Michigan College of Education and did graduate work at the University of Michigan, Michigan State College, and the University of Colorado.

If you don't think that it's a job to teach young girls the art of homemaking, just ask Pearl Oliver. Besides teaching home economics, Miss Oliver teaches freshman English and is a freshman class adviser. She received her B.S. degree from Central Michigan College of Education and did graduate work at the University of Michigan, Michigan State College, and the University of Colorado.

Homemaking is taught to the girls of C.H.S. so that they may learn to become good home makers in future years. Our future housewives learn to cook their way into a man's heart. By learning to make some of their own clothes the students will be able to save much.

Donald J. Stockwell

With Songs and Horns We Rend the Air

1950 saw a newcomer to our music department, Donald J. Stockewell. "Stocky" took over this fall and presented a transformed band in time for the first football game. Along with teaching the budding young instrumentalists of C.H.S., he teaches chorus. Mr. Stockwell received his B.S. degree from Western Michigan College and his M.M. degree from Michigan State College.

A great variety of work ranging from half-time entertainment at football games to concerts and band festivals is done in our music department. This year the chorus classes presented the first annual all city Christmas concert. Among the special features of the year for our students is the solo and ensemble festival. Each year many avail themselves of this opportunity of playing for adjudication. Our future musicians are always hard at work on new material in order to improve themselves.

The chorus classes, composed largely of freshmen this year, sing under Mr. Stockwell's direction.

French and Latin Twist our Tongues

Another one of our busy teachers is Dana Brandenburg. First and second year Latin and French are taught very capably by Miss Brandenburg. In order to fill in any extra time Miss Brandenburg has the duty of being dean of girls, a sophomore class adviser, and director of the cheer leaders. Miss Brandenburg received an A.B. degree from Kalamazoo College and an M.A. degree from the University of Michigan.

Dana Brandenburg

To be able to converse in a foreign language is an art which few students master. We have a choice of Latin or French. Every Thursday, if one goes into the language room, he will hear expressions spoken in French as Thursday is French day. Every year the Latin classes refight Caesar's Gallic Wars, and it always ends with Miss Brandenbug's force winning.

Marilyn Fritz

Russell J. Canute came to us in the middle of last year. American history and American government are capably taught by him. Mr. Canute is also the coach of our freshman football team and coach of the baseball team. He holds a B.S. degree from Western Michigan College and an M.A. degree from the University of Michigan.

Early in the year a teacher was needed quickly to take the place of Mr. Austin who became seriously ill. We were very fortunate to get Marilyn Fritz, who holds an A.B. degree from the University of Michigan. Her big task is to teach civics to the freshmen.

Coach Becker, with arm outstretched and finger pointing, and Coach Nesbitt follow the play in the Manistee game.

Playing their first game of the season at Reed City, Cadillac won by the score of 12-6. Zagers, Cadillac's stellar left half, scored both touchdowns, one in the first half and another in the second half after a 62 yard run.

Led by the fine running of Zagers and Stevens and the passing of Francis Smekar, the Vikings mauled Fremont. Zagers again led the touchdown parade by crossing the goal line three times. Stevens with two touchdowns, William Smrekar, Stayer, and Eley with one each, rounded out the scoring.

Playing our ach rivals to the north, the Vikings showed that they were unbeatable by walking over Traverse City, 40-13. In this game it was again the Cadillac line and backs which showed Traverse how to play. In the scoring department Zagers had two touchdowns, Fettig two, and Stayer and Meek one.

In the fourth game of the season Cadillac defeated Mt. Pleasant, 38-6. In the first half Zagers raced seventy-five yards to pay dirt for a score. Zagers made two more touchdowns and Fettig one to put Cadillac ahead, 25-0, at the half. In the second half VanPelt scored along with Matson to give Cadillac a 38-6 margin over the Oilers. It was once again the Viking line that played an important part in the outcome of the game.

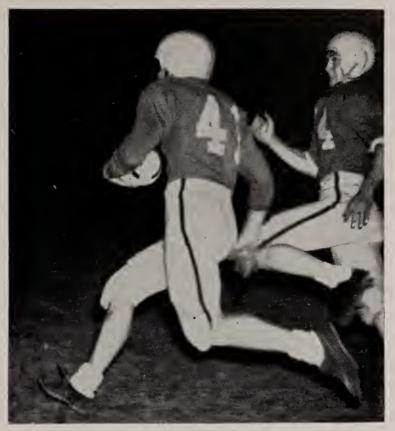

The favored Vikings handed a 35-13 defeat to Petoskey to make it nineteen straight wins. Cadillac scored first on a pass from Francis Smrekar to William Smrekar. Then Zagers grabbed a pass to score the second touchdown as the half ended. In the last half it was not hard for Zagers, Stevens, and Stayer to score. In this game Ed Foster, star tackle, lost two teeth. It was a hard fought game, and the hard running Cadillac backfield and line were too much for Petoskey.

The Vikings showed their power by defeating Manistee, 54-0. It was again the fine running of Bert Zagers, the signal calling of Francis Smrekar, and the forward wall of Cadillac that were too strong for the "Chips." In the scoring department it was Zagers who crossed the goal four times. Laurent, Francis Smrekar, and Ransom also took the ball across the goal line for touchdowns.

In the Ludington game the pressure was on as Laurent had to replace the injured Smrekar at quarterback. The loss of Zagers early in the first quarter also was hard to take by the Vikings. Never-the-less, without the services of these two boys, the Vikings went on to win. Laurent did a beautiful job and scored one touchdown. Mattson, Stayer and Fettig also scored.

Playing their last conference game of the season the Vikings repeated as North Cen-

Three Straight Cage Titles!

After winning the North Central Conference championship two years in a row it seemed to be asking the impossible to expect the Vikings to do it again. But in this athletic-mad year of 1950-51 in C.H.S. no one seemed to have heard of the impossible. Following the example of the football team last fall the basketball boys went right out and brought another championship to add to Cadillac's renown.

The season started off with little to cheer about as we went to Alpena and took a 60-40 beating at the hands of the class A school. But then the big march started to the conference championship. First we smashed Big Rapids, 57-47. Then followed a quick series of victories over Reed City, Traverse City, Mt. Pleasant, and Manistee. Ludington gave us a scare by forcing us into an overtime period, but we won, 52-51. Petoskey, a non-conference foe, beat us, but from then on Cadillac had nothing but victories right to the end of the season. Against conference competition we had a perfect record.

The tournament games which followed brought the season to a close in such a welter of excitement as Cadillac fans have not seen since the 1927 team won a regional championship. Our first opponent was defeated without too much difficulty. Then came Alma and what a game that was! Our boys had to make up a fifteen point deficit to beat Alma and take the district title. After defeating Godwin Heights in a thriller, we had high hopes for a regional title too, but Fremont dashed our hopes there by sinking a basket in the last minute to win, 45-44.

All honor to Coach James Nesbitt for his excellent handling of the team, and to the six stars of the squad, Captain Bert Zagers, Anthony Stayer, Roger Moore, Dick Laurent, Francis Smrekar, and Richard Benson.

Track Men

The Cadillac Vikings had a fine track record last year to add to Cadillac's sports laurels. The track team won five meets, lost two, finished third in the conference, and second in the regional. Cadillac opened the season by defeating Lake City. Traverse City and Grayling came to Cadillac and the Vikings took these meets by lop-sided margins. The team then journeyed to Traverse City and took first in a triangular meet winning over Traverse and the Leelanau School for Boys. The following week the Viking thinclads went to Alpena and were defeated by a fine Alpena team. Cadillac got back on the winning side with a win over Big Rapids. After this meet the Vikings absorbed defeat at the hands of Manistee. This meet was very close and was not decided until the last event. The conference meet went as it has for the last few years: Ludington, first; Mt. Pleasant, second; and Cadillac, third. In the regional Cadillac finished second behind Ludington. Bert Zagers, the leading scorer of the Vikings, Duane Eley, Mark Booth, and Walter Ransom went to the state meet in Lansing.

Netmen Win

Added to Cadillac's championships in football and basketball last year, came another in the spring, that in tennis. The team went through a season of eleven matches and won them all. The boys also came out on top in the conference and regional meets.

Ten players composed the 1950 blue ribbon aggregation of whom only four have graduated. The prospects are bright for another winner this spring.

The golf team had rather a dark season not winning any matches. Although this is an unenviable record, the future is brighter because five of the six lettermen last year were freshmen and the other was a sophomore. The team placed last in both the regional and the conference matches.

The team consisted of: Fred Lamb, Robert Faunce, James Schenden, James Meek, Benny Kreps, and John Moore. This was the first year of coaching by Lynn Kingsley.

With eight lettermen available, prospects for the 1951 season are encouraging. The squad lost Gordon Barnes by transfer to another school and Phil Settles, Charles Johnson, and Robert Lyons by graduation.

The 1950-51 senior Y-Teen Club is an enthusiastic group of thirty-five junior and senior girls. Their aim is: "Service and good will to school and community." One of their projects was sending Christmas presents to the Lapeer home, and another was giving a donation to the March of Dimes. They have sponsored many well-attended dances for teen-agers and adults. They held a very successful grade-school talent show in the high school auditorium. They had a rummage sale and many candy and bake sales throughout the year.

A Christmas birthday party was held in the form of a banquet. A successful slumber party was held at the Youth Center following the Manistee game. Lunches were provided for the teams after the basketball and football games. Membership cards were received and membership pins were bought.

The Y-Teen constitution was revised by adding many new amendments.

A banquet honoring the seniors was held in the spring.

The officers of this club are: President Margaret Shepherd, Vice-President Joan Grice, Secretary Dema Trobridge, and Treasurer Carole Long.

The advisers were: Mrs. Milo Ash, Miss Betty Dillon, Miss Ruth Sogge, and Mrs. William Boynton.

Many projects are now under consideration for the betterment of the community.

Many of the freshman and sophomore girls belong to the Y-Teen Fawns. This is a national organization for girls and is affiliated with the Y-Teen Club.

Once a week the Fawns held a business meeting where coming events were discussed and planned. At these meetings the girls spent considerable time getting acquainted with each other and having a lot of fun together.

Before the Big Rapids game a huge pep rally was held in front of the postoffice. A big dummy, made by the Fawns, and representing the Big Rapids Cardinals, was burned at the meeting.

Early in the fall an initiation meeting was held at the Y. The new freshman girls were forced to draw assignments for a stunt to put on. These initiation stunts were a great source of mirth and hilarity for the other club members, and at the same time they served to break the ice for the new girls so that they felt they were an integral part of the organization.

The girls took part in many activities such as giving toys to needy children at Christmas time, putting on dances at the Youth Center, donating to the March of Dimes, having candy sales, and many other useful things. Some of their larger projects were the annual "Sweetheart Swing" and the spring carnival with the Torch Club.

The advisers for the Fawns are Miss Mary Johnson, and Miss Patricia Nickleson. The officers are Joanna Barinotti, president; Neoma Tribbey, vice-president; LaDonna Umbarger, secretary; Loretta Reamer, treasurer; Marjorie Ward, parliamentarian.

The 1950-51 Cadillac Hi-Y Club has been a very active and successful organization. Its functions were guided by Douglas Lund, president; Dick Willis, vice-president; Dean Van Natter, secretary; Jack Dillon, treasurer; and Edward A. Babcock, adviser.

The main project of the club was the publication of a twenty-four page football program. Also, the club honored the football team and their fathers by serving them a chicken dinner.

The boys of the Hi-Y performed several services for the school and community. They conducted the March of Dimes campaign in the high school and helped with the community drive. The club itself donated a sizable sum to the drive. At Christmas a basket of food was donated to a needy family. The C.Y.R.A. received a contribution of twenty-five dollars from the club.

Douglas Lund and Richard Brehm were sent to the Hi-Y State Legislature at Lansing, and the club attended the Older Boys Conference at Ann Arbor. This summer the new officers, Jack Garber, Walter Ransom, Joe Zakrajsek, and David Van Pelt will attend the Hi-Y Camp at Hayo-Went-Ha.

The club this year offered two hundred dollar scholarship to a club member. It was received by Douglas Lund.

The Hi-Y boys canvassed the home-rooms for the March of Dimes. Here we have Dick Willis and Duane Eley collecting from Phyllis Salisbury and Mary Slocum.

classes. The high standards of the club are the same as those of the Hi-Y.

The boys participated in many activities this past year. They collaborated with the Y-Teen Fawns in sponsoring the annual school carnival. The club had many candy sales after school to raise money and it was also responsible for the candy sales at the home basketball games. Many dances were sponsored by the boys at the "Y". One of these dances was the Traverse City-Cadillac basketball game dance.

Next year many of the boys will be eligible to join the Hi-Y Club and attend the Hi-Y camp at Hay-O-Went-Ha.

The Torch Club is one of the youngest clubs at Cadillac High School. It has been active in school activities for only three years.

The club was led by Jerry Iverson, who was president; Ted Kelly, vice-president; Don Medalie, secretary; and Eugene Osterlund was treasurer. Mr. Edward Babcock, high school science teacher, was the club's adviser.

The Tri-Hi-Y has endeavored in the past year to become a bigger and better club by providing many activities for its members. The club resolves to create, maintain, and extend high standards of Christian character with its motto being, "Pure thought, pure words, pure actions."

The various activities that the girls participated in were the annual Christmas Dance, Tri-Hi-Y banquet, held in honor of the new members, and various football and basketball dances. Following this were slumber parties, treasure hunts, fudge and sandwich sales and many other things.

The officers for the year were Janet Paulson, president; Karin Nelson, vice-president; Beth Osterlund, secretary; Ann Pastotnik, treasurer; Janet Anderson, parliamentarian; Eleanor Ashbaugh, song leader; Marjorie Robbins, chaplain; Gail Burke, historian.

When Miss Fica left, the club was without an adviser.

The annual Maidens' Week and the "Damsel Drag" which climaxes Maidens' Week went along as scheduled with the girls bringing out a great number of bashful boys.

How can a mere man like Jack Blaisdell resist the sales talk by Sally Tossey, Ann Pastotnik, and Marilyn Kelts as the Tri-Hi-Y Club sold cupcakes in the hall?

"A better world through education," was the policy adopted by the Cadillacan as it started its fifth year of publication with Jack Dillon as editor.

In addition to publishing the paper, the sixteen members of the class also sponsored a homecoming which will become an annual festivity. The staff participated in two radio programs: the Cadillacan of the Air, and a sports program three nights weekly. The Cadillacan sponsored special issues for football, basketball, and seniors.

Mary Jo Pope and Lucille Fettig attended the journalism conference at Lansing. Seven members of the class received Quill and Scroll memberships: Jack Dillon, Mary Jo Pope, Richard Brehm, Douglas Lund, Lucille Fettig, Anthony Stayer, and Larry Deming. In March a banquet was held, honoring the members who were received by the Quill and Scroll.

The Cadillacan sponsored a homecoming last fall. Margaret Shepherd was elected queen and was crowned at the Big Rapids football game. Here are three of her attendants: Jean Spicer, Barbara Lillie, and Georgia Showalter. Behind the wheel is Nadine Lamb of the Cadillacan staff.

The Log of "Old Cadillac High"

Producing outstanding annuals has become a tradition at C.H.S. As the students prepared to leave the old building, the senior class was determined to produce a year-book befitting the memorable event. In this Log of 1951, the staff has presented the events and activities that will make the days and years spent here a happy memory.

Heading the staff were Mary Jane McGarr as editor, Joan Boudler as subscription manager, and Barbara Payne as advertising manager. They were assisted by Janet Brown, Shirley Marvin, Dema Trobridge, Norma Brehm, Amelia Carlson, Janet Paulson, Duane Arnold, and Mr. Van.

Joan Boudler and Doris Nienhuis have a busy time in January making reservations for the Log. Waiting with their dollar bills are Mildred Blackmer, Donald Keller, Bonnie Emmons, and Douglas Ide.

No bugle is needed to remind the band members of meal time when they hold their picnic at the Park of the Lakes.

Smart Music

The Cadillac High School band has been doing some high stepping and fancy marching this year. During the 1950 football season the band did some colorful reviews during the half-time. All of the out-of-town games were attended by the whole band except the Reed City game, and a "pep" band went there to add a little color to the affair.

Several times this year the band has played in the upstairs hall. Also, a "pep" band was present at the assemblies to furnish them with some snappy marches. Another undertaking was the annual concert put on in the Lyric Theatre.

The band did some things just for fun. In December they had a sleigh ride. The first of March some of the members attended a concert given by the Ludington band. In June they had the annual picnic.

The officers were: William Robertson, president; Jerry Iverson, vice-president; Helen Edwards, secretary-treasuer.

Center: The "Clarion" girls, Donna Ide, Deloris LarAn editorial in the high school newspaper attacking present methods of teaching certainly caused a lot of excitement in Central College and provided the impetus for this year's junior-senior play, "Odds on Tomorrow." The play was presented in the Lyric Theatre February 21 and 22 under the direction of Mr. Van.

James McGuire as a precocious fourteenyear-old and Duane Eley as a professor carried the heaviest roles in the play. Mary Jane McGarr, Janet Paulson, and Jack Garber carried heavy comedy roles. Others in the two casts were Barbara Payne, Karolyn LaMonde, Maxine Bogner, Marilyn Kelts, Nancy Hatch, Helen Edwards, Nadine Lamb, Margaret Shepherd, Verda Frye, Lois Johnson, Donna Ide, Deloris Largent, Joan Lee James, Don Medalie, Jack Dillon, Richard Gallivan, Douglas Lund, Robert Dahlgren, Jack Kuhnigk, David Fowler, and David Van Pelt.

Karin Nelson was the prompter. Ardis Whaley and Lucille Fettig took care of the properties and Janet Thompson the sound effects. David Van Pelt acted as stage manager as well as helping Mr. Carpenter with the business affairs. 1119 tickets were sold for this year's effort.

Memories of the Old Stage

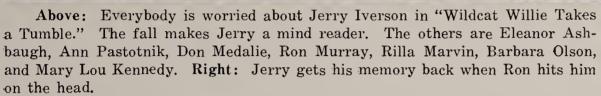

Dad's bad tooth wins no sympathy from his family in "Paul Ducks the Dentist." The characters are Margaret Shepherd, Dick Gallivan, Duane Eley, James McGuire, Verda Frye, Bonnie Buckner, and Barbara Payne.

Karolyn LaMonde (left) hands the winning ticket to Carole Ash in "The Perfect Date." The other characters are Maxine Bogner, Trevor Nelson, William Hathaway, Helen Edwards, Michael Murphy, Marilyn Sims, Robert Dahlgren, and Joan James.

As Cadillac looks with pride at the products of "Old C.H.S." through its many years of existance, so the Cadillac Printing Company is proud of the work it has turned out in its many years of printing service to the Cadillac community. For over a quarter of a century it has been known as the outstanding printing establishment of northern Michigan. High school students are well acquainted with its work as the high school newspaper and yearbook are both products of the skilled craftsmen at the Cadillac Printing Company.
